

Please Meet Stephanie: Survivor and Volunteer

Stephanie is...

A wife, mother, sister, daughter, friend and dog owner. Stephanie also enjoys being creative including making glass works, crocheting bags and blankets, home improvement projects, writing, word clouds and poems. She finds strength in relationships with friends, family and her dog.

After a car accident 6 years ago...

That resulted in a brain injury, she has not been able to return to her previous jobs as a public health nurse and university instructor but is trying to redefine herself in other ways.

In addition...

To participating in many of BIAWW's survivor program, Stephanie volunteers for the BIAWW as a board member, sits on equity seeking committees at the University of Waterloo, and is generally interested in advocating for those who are vulnerable.

About the BIAWW...

"The BIAWW was instrumental in providing opportunities to express my true and authentic self".

Stephanie says...

"The more room you give yourself to express your true thoughts and feelings, the more room there is for your wisdom to emerge" -Marianne Williamson. It was a gift of her accident that allowed the opportunity to get to know herself and her feelings better.

With the Covid-19 pandemic we need your help more than ever. Donate to the BIAWW Today! <http://www.biaww.org/donate.html>
